Additional Notes or Attachments:

- To join a Spaces Meeting from desktop, please follow the below instructions:
Step 1: Open X on your Browser to start, head over to the X website (https://x.com) and log in to your account.

  Step 2: Find a Space. Once logged in, you'll see your homepage feed, and from here, there are two ways to locate an active Space:

Through the Fleet Bar (Top of the screen): If you follow any hosts who are currently running a Space, you'll see the purple "Space" icon at the top. Simply click on it to join.

Search for a Space: If no Space is available in your feed, you can search for "The American Capitalist Party National Organization Monthly Meeting". Look for tweets that include the purple Space icon, which indicates an ongoing session.

Step 3: Join the Space
Once you've found a Space that interests you, click on it. You'll be taken to the Space's page where you can see the participants, hosts, and speakers. Hit the "Join" button to listen in.

If you have any further questions, or are experiencing difficulties, please reach out to Airona or Mark Gleason to help troubleshoot the issue. The Spaces meeting will be open for a brief period of time prior to the start of the meeting to allow everyone ample time to arrive and ensure potential difficulties are addressed.

Time Management Note: Please be mindful of everyone's time and try to stay on topic.
